NO PRISONERS IS ORDER TO FEDERALS

Huerta Determines to Show No Mercy to Foes in Northern Mexico and Decrees That They Shall Be Shot on Capture to Avenge Massacre of Alvarez and His Men.

MONTEREY IS IN DANGER

Fifteen Thousand Rebels Reported to Be Marching on City and Residents Are Horror Stricken — Constitutionalists Capture Many Pieces of Artillery and Millions of Rounds of Ammunition at Torreon.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

MEXICO CITY, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — No prisoners will be taken by Federal troops in northern Mexico if reports that General Alvarez and 125 of his men were massacred by Constitutionalists at Torreon were confirmed by the war department.

War Minister Blanquet may be ordered by Huerta to take the field in person it was learned today.

The executive has resolved to show no mercy to the northern rebels in the war of extermination following the report from Torreon of the massacre of Alvarez there after the capture of the town by insurgents. All rebels captured will be tried by drumhead court-martial upon capture and shot.

A rebel army of fifteen thousand men is reported to be marching on Monterey and the residents are horror stricken according to information received here. General Alvarez and many of his officers were assassinated by their own soldiers who revolted when Torreon was captured by the rebels and joined the Constitutionalists.

The rebels captured at Torreon many pieces of artillery, one thousand rifles and several million rounds of ammunition. General Ambrot, one of the Federal leaders in the north, is reported to have joined the rebels.

POLICE DOGS TO HOUND TICKET SPECULATORS

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

NEW YORK, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — Determined to rid the sidewalk of ticket speculators, the Shuberts have just placed an order for six trained police dogs which they will add to the staff of detectives already employed around New York hippodrome in suppressing the nuisance. The order for the dogs has been placed with Major Richardson's kennel of Air-dales at Grove End, Harrow, England.

BEARS DRAW HIS SLEDS ON POLAR EXPEDITION

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

ST. PETERSBURG, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — Lieutenant Svyedoff, leader of a Russian polar expedition, writes to Novoe Vremya that he is using bears instead of dogs for the purpose of transportation. Bears are sometimes used to draw sleds at Archangel, but they need a lot of breaking in.

FLIES UFBIDE DOWN, CARRYING PASSENGER

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

PARIS, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — M. Pegoud, aerial loop-the-loop artist and most daring aviator in the world, added a new trick today when he carried a passenger aloft, then captured his aeroplane and flew upside down for a long distance. Although M. Pegoud has flown upside down alone, this was the first time such a flight has been made by two persons.

Mack's Baby Battery Toys With Giants to Tune of 8 to 2; Bush, Athletics' Tall Grass Boy, Twirls Spectacular Game

BIG JEFF TESREAU HAMMERED; SCHANG HITS FOR A HOMER

Thirty Thousand Fans See McGraw's Men Beaten on Their Own Grounds When His Pitchers Undergo Terrific Bombardment by Fancy Stick- ers of Philadelphia.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

NEW YORK, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — John McGraw and his fighting Giants were rudely mauled and cuffed about this afternoon on their own playgrounds by a baby battery—Bush and Schang—in the third game of the world's series, losing in the snuff by a score of 8 to 2.

It was another one of those unlooked-for and unheralded surprises for which the silent leader of the White Elephants is noted. It was the feeling among the fans that Connie Mack would call upon the mighty Bender again today, after the way the Giants had won from the American League champions on Wednesday. When he announced that he was to send in a busher who was but a year old in the major leagues and had never gone through the fiery baptism of a world's series, the fans gasped.

The confidence of the veteran pilot of pennant winners and world's champions in Bush was not misplaced, and Connie Mack had the pleasure and good fortune of seeing the youngster make good.

"Right at 'em!" was the slogan of the Giants as the Athletics took the field, and McGraw's men started with the determination to do or die then and there. Bush, the tall grass boy, was cool and collected, and in the face of the hostile crowd and the menacing looks of the big fellows, cut loose with a brand of shoots and slants that soon bewildered McGraw and his fighting men.

Bush Had Everything.
He had a sizzling brand of speed, and sharp breaking curves played a big part in the downfall of the Giants. Here and there the young fellow got into a hole, but he got right out again. Once he hit a batsman.

Behind Bush was the marvelous young catcher Schang, also from the brush country, and seven other men who fought tooth and nail, with calmness and grit, to help Bush win.

Mack had given his men instructions to play the "wide open" game, and they followed his orders to the letter. Right from their first time at bat until the end of the game they played tear-lugia, rough-and-ready baseball, and when it was all over John McGraw's men had received a awful drubbing.

Big Jeff Tesreau next to Mathewson the best of New York's hitters was the hero of the Giants and their thirty thousand fans, but big Jeff fell by the wayside, and in the sixth inning, weary at it all, he laid down the burden, giving way to "Doc" Crandall, the Handy Andy of the Giants.

Case of Youth Prevailing.
It was no use, youth would prevail, and the baby battery was too much for Summary.—Hits, off Tesreau, 11 in 11-3 innings; first base on called balls, off Bush, 4; struck out, by Tesreau 3 (McInnes, Schang, 2 by Crandall, 1 by Bush); by Bush 3 (Tesreau, Burns, Wilson); hit by pitched ball, Fletcher; two basehit, Slater; three basehit, Collins; home run, Schang; double base, Collins to Barry. Bush to Collins to McLenn, Doyle unassisted. Umpires, Rigler, Egan, Klem and Connolly. Time of game, two hours and twelve minutes.

the veterans of the game. The Mack-men played with the two big fellows. Nothing that Tesreau or Crandall put on the ball was good enough to check the batting ability of the Mackmen. Eddie Collins was a kingpin with the stick when he whacked a triple that sent men trotting over the plate.

Young Schang caught a marvelous game, and in one of the innings lined the ball far enough away to make the circuit at a jog. He got his handful of applause, for it was on the grounds of the enemy, and the crowd was nearly all for the Giants. John Franklin Baker, the home-run hero, was the first to congratulate the youngster, and this was applause enough for Schang. Others, too, stood out in the twilight for the Athletics and it was the brilliancy of their playing, their daring on the bases and the manner in which they hit the offerings of Tesreau and Crandall that won for them. It is this kind of ball that is causing John McGraw to sit awake long into the small hours of the night in his endeavors to figure out a defense.

Lost in the First.

While the Athletics scored eight runs and laced out twelve hits, the game was really over in the opening inning, after the White Elephants had gone to the bat.

Eddie Murphy was an easy out on a pickup and snap throw across the diamond to Merkle by Fletcher. Oldring hit sharply to center for a single and then moved over to third when Collins drove the ball into safe territory over Doyle's head. Baker followed with a single through short and Oldring scored. Collins and Baker then pulled off the double steal and both scored after McLenn had fanned on Fletcher's wild throw of Strunk's drive over Merkle's head. Barry ended the inning by popping out to Fletcher.

These three runs were terrific odds for Tesreau to face with the opening of the Athletics half of the second inning and two more runs were chalked on the score board before the second installment ended.

With Schang out of the way on strikes and Bush retired on a fly ball to Murray, E. Murphy beat out an infield hit and then went to third on Oldring's single. Oldring stole second, and he and Murphy scored on Collins' hit to

GREEKS CLAMOR OR MORE WAR

Army Placed on War Footing and Is Prepared for Turkey and Bulgaria.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

ATHENS, October 9. — (Special to The Advertiser) — The Greek Army has been placed on a war footing and is now prepared for any eventuality which Bulgaria or Turkey may force.

In spite of dispatches from Constantinople saying that general demobilization of the Turkish Army was begun, the Greek government fears a trick. The Greek residents of Southern Albania are clamoring for war, and King Constantine has gone to Salonika where he established general staff headquarters today.
